Grisha.studio - Local Artist

New Website Build, Social Presence

We helped a small, up-and-coming artist bring his website to life. We worked with him from the beginning, brainstorming ideas and building the site around exactly what he wanted. We secured his preferred domain and got everything online. Over the next few weeks, we worked closely with him to tweak even the smallest details until the website felt just right. We also created his Instagram page to help grow his brand and reach new people.
